*How to support the St Albans
International Organ Festival*

The St Albans International Organ Festival needs the support of committed donors.

Please join one of our Supporters' Schemes.

The St Albans International Organ Festival presents arguably the world's leading organ competition. Its roll-call of past prize-winners includes many of today's most influential organists.

For two weeks our biennial festival celebrates organs and a lot more besides. Our diverse mix of large-scale and intimate concerts, talks, workshops, art exhibitions and fringe events offers something for everyone and complements the St Albans International Organ Competition itself. Events are centred around the magnificent Norman cathedral of St Albans and spread out all around this beautiful historic city. Important venues in London host additional competition rounds and performances.

Since the festival was founded in 1963 it has attracted leading performers from around the world together with very best young organists.

The Festival also presents a series of free organ recitals around St Albans, most months throughout the year.
